

PHASE 1 OF CONNECT THE QUAYS PATHWAY

CONSTRUCTION COMMENCES EARLY JULY

WORK IS COMMENCING ON THE CONNECT THE QUAYS PATHWAY

The City of Port Alberni is carrying out Phase One of the Connect the Quays Pathway. This trail is a multi-modal pathway connecting Harbour Quay and Victoria Quay. The pathway will also be routed through, and to, other major Port Alberni destinations such as Roger Creek Park, Somass Lands, and the train station at Harbour Road and Argyle Street. The project was approved by Council in December 2021. Phase one will entail the construction of a base-level asphalt pathway, with design elements and seating nodes to come later after engagement and consultation with First Nations and community partners.

HARBOUR QUAY

Work is scheduled to begin at Harbour Quay in early July. The project will involve the renovation of sections of the pathway that runs along a portion of Harbour Road, with the construction of two new multi-modal crossings at the intersections of Argyle Street and Harbour Road.

ROGER CREEK

The renovation project for the pathway along the train track at Roger Street is set to commence in early July. This initiative will cover various sections of the trail, starting from the pathway that runs alongside the train track at Roger Street, round to Pemberton Road, before crossing the street at Gertrude Street, and then ending at Margaret Street.

NEXT PHASES

We are currently exploring ways to engage the community in the process of planning future pathway connections.
